NAVIGATION TOOLS

Leadership entails determining a position, charting a course, and heading towards a destination. It means navigating around various obstacles - concrete ones like road blocks or soft ones like different views - and sailing through weather conditions as harsh as moral dilemmas. But are the manners of and tools for leading equally important as the end goal? And what are the elements – facts, beliefs, values, practical issues – that influence decisions in navigating towards a certain direction?

The classic and modern tools such as the compass and the mobile phone in the ASEFYLS3 design show that every leadership must come with its own acceptable and effective measures. However, one has to be constantly alert and sensitive towards possible internal and external forces that might meddle, manipulate, and mislead one’s decision making process. Only then is the leader a true navigator, able to develop a sense of direction informed by self-awareness and societal needs, and thereby standing up for her/his chosen course.

Organised by

The Asia-Europe Foundation (ASEF) promotes understanding, strengthens relationships and facilitates cooperation among the people, institutions and organisations of Asia and Europe. ASEF enhances dialogue, enables exchanges and encourages collaboration across the thematic areas of culture, education, governance, sustainable development, economy and public health. ASEF is an intergovernmental not-for-profit organisation located in Singapore. Founded in 1997, it is the only institution of the Asia-Europe Meeting (ASEM). ASEF runs more than 25 projects a year, consisting of around 100 activities, mainly conferences, seminars, workshops, lectures, publications, and online platforms, together with about 125 partner organisations. Each year over 3,000 Asians and Europeans participate in ASEF's activities, and much wider audiences are reached through its various events, networks, and web-portals.
